The 2009 Region V Conference will be held at the spectacular Semiahmoo Resort north of Bellingham, Washington. This beautiful setting, panning a horizon of Canadian snow-clad mountains, Mount Baker, and the seaside harbor of Blaine, WA, also looks north to White Rock B.C., just over the Canadian border. The conference will provide the Western states' Region V members with a full schedule of offerings and shared best practices. An opportunity for sight-seeing and tours might showcase the Peace Arch, our oil refineries, oyster harvesting, Chuckanut Bay, tulip/agricultural producing, manufacturing, ship building, and other northwest tourism in both economic and educational settings. ACTE Region V conference attendees can fly into nearby Bellingham, Washington or take a connecting flight from Seattle over the San Juans and Washington inland harbors. Attendees will have an option to travel to Canada while in the area.
